

Press Release

For Immediate Release

Seccua at WQA Aquatech 2010

Ultrafiltration experts present new generation of products.

Steingaden, Germany, February 9, 2010 – Seccua GmbH, a global technology leader in the manufacture of standardized ultrafiltration systems for the residential and small community market, is showcasing latest-generation systems at WQA/Aquatech in Orlando, Florida USA.

At WQA Seccua introduces the enhanced 2010 version of it's flagship product line Virex[®] Pro.

“Virex Pro now features 60 % higher performance and for the first time in the ultrafiltration market introduces web-based remote control”, states Michael Hank, founder and CEO of Seccua. “For our customers this means higher flows at lower pressure drops while reducing operational costs.”

Seccua's leading-edge Ultrafiltration meets the toughest regulatory standards: Certified pathogen-removal, integrated membrane testing, data-logging and web-based remote access. Plus full control over all required peripherals to filter water from any source, from gray water to well-water.

These innovations will be on show from the 10th to the 12th of March at WQA Aquatech 2010 booth # 765.

Seccua GmbH

Seccua is a global technology leader in the development and manufacture of standardized ultrafiltration systems for the residential and small community markets as well as for applications involving the re-use of wastewater. The Company's Virex Pro and Phoenix lines of ultrafiltration systems incorporate industry leading smart controllers that automatically control all operational needs: Fully automatic membrane backwash, automatic integrity testing, remote access and control, and data logging are all standard features of Seccua's Ultrafiltration systems. Seccua's ISO 9001:2008 certified manufacturing and R&D facilities are located in Steingaden (Bavaria), Germany.

For additional information regarding Seccua, its products and services, please visit our website at www.seccua.com, follow us on www.twitter.com/seccua or contact:

Seccua GmbH

Michael Hank, CEO
Krummbachstraße 8
D-86989 Steingaden
Germany
Tel. +49/886291172-0
mhank@seccua.com

Seccua Americas LLC

Dan Wyckoff, General Manager
15508 W. Bell Rd., Ste. 101-440
Surprise, AZ 85374
United States of America
Tel: +1/623/986-5766
dwyckoff@seccua.com

Maisberger PR

Gesellschaft für strategische
Unternehmenskommunikation
A. Willkommen
Kirchenstraße 15
D-81675 Munich
Germany
Tel.: +49/89/419599-84
willkommen@maisberger.com
www.maisberger.com